

Directions:

1. Think of 3 personal goals for the 4th quarter. Those 3 goals will become your main points.

Getting better grades. Eliminate all my homework. Be in class on time all the time.

2. Write a topic sentence explaining why goals are good for you.

Goals are good for me because they give you something to work towards. When I set goals, I have clear directions and it helps me stay focused.

3. Introduce each of your 3 main goals. One at a time. Use transitions to introduce each one.

One of my goals for the third quarter is to do all my homework from the previous quarter. Also, I plan on getting better grades. Lastly, I plan on working on my attendance and being in school on time.

4. Explain each of your 3 main goals. Write down how you plan to achieve each one, and discuss the positive effects of each as well.

Complete all my homework: I want to finish all my homework on time. I'll make a schedule to stay on track, I will also ask for help if needed. All this will reduce stress and improve my grades.

Get better grades: I plan to improve my grades by studying more, taking better notes, and asking questions. Better grades will help me feel more confident.

Be on time for class: I want to always be on time for class. I'll set an earlier bedtime and prepare the night before to make sure I wake up on time. This will help me stay on top of my work and show responsibility.

5. Create a brief paragraph for each goal, how you plan to achieve it, and the positive effects.

Complete all my homework: To complete all my homework. I'll create a schedule and set aside time each day to work on assignments. I'll also ask for help when needed. This will help me stay organized, reduce stress, and improve my understanding of work, this will lead me to better grades.

Get better grades: I plan to get better grades by studying more, taking better notes, and asking questions in class when I don't understand something. I will also work with friends to study for tests. Improving my grades will help boost my grades.

Be on time for class: To be on time for class, I will set an earlier bedtime and get my things ready the night before. I'll also set multiple alarms and ensure I wake up on time. Being punctual will help me stay on top of lessons and show my teacher that I am responsible.

6. Write a conclusion to your goals paper.

In conclusion, setting clear goals is essential for staying focused and motivated. By completing all my homework, improving my grades, and being on time for class, I will not only become a better student but also develop good habits that will help me in the future. Staying committed to these goals will lead to personal growth and success both in school and beyond.

To complete all my homework, I'll create a schedule and set aside time each day to work on assignments. I'll also ask for help when needed. This will help me stay organized, reduce stress, and improve my understanding of work. This will lead me to better grades. Also, I plan to get better grades by studying more, taking better notes, and asking questions in class when I don't understand something. I will also work with friends to study for tests. Improving my grades will help boost my grades. Lastly, to be on time for class, I will set an earlier bedtime and get my things ready the night before. I'll also set multiple alarms and ensure I wake up on time. Being punctual will help me stay on top of lessons and show my teacher that I am responsible. In conclusion, setting clear goals is essential for staying focused and motivated. By completing all my homework, improving my grades, and being on time for class, I will not only become a better student but also develop good habits that will help me in the future. Staying committed to these goals will lead to personal growth and success both in school and beyond.